Jackson Calls For 'New Look' At U.S. Strength

WASHINGTON, March 3 (P)—Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) said tonight the administration must take "a new, hard look" to determine if its armed forces are adequate to meet "Communist aggression in the Middle East."

Jackson said in a statement he will support President Eisenhower's Middle East resolution when it comes up for a final vote, expected this week.

He will do so, he said, in the belief that "serious consequences for our future influence in the world" might follow "if we fail to back up the President at this time."

Resolution Kept Intact
The Eisenhower resolution pledging the use of American military forces and emergency economic and arms assistance to nations seeking U.S. help, easily won its first crucial Senate test yesterday.

The Senate defeated 58-28 an amendment to deny the President authority to spend 200 million dollars on military and economic assistance for the Middle East.

On the basis of this test, the resolution is now expected to pass by a top-heavy margin.

The final vote could come Tuesday. Tomorrow's session will be restricted to debate.

Vote Follows Plea By Ike
Yesterday's vote on the aid amendment came after an urgent plea from Eisenhower "to help these nations preserve their independence."

Jackson sided with the President on that vote.

"The executive branch must take a new, hard look at our forces-in-being and our defense budget," he said tonight. "We should see whether we are in a position to effectively meet armed Communist aggression in the Middle East."

Jackson said he was studying the legality of the applications of two other candidates.

Former Texas Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd entered the name of Blakeley before the filing deadline Saturday midnight.

Of the 23 candidates qualified thus far 21 are Democrats and two are Republicans.

They seek election to the seat which Blakeley has held on an interim basis since Jan. 15. Former Gov. Allan Shivers appointed Blakeley to the post vacated by Price Daniel, who succeeded Shivers as governor. About two years remain of Daniel's unexpired term.

British Trap, Kill EOKA's No. 2 Man

NICOSIA, Cyprus, March 3 (P)—British security forces cornered EOKA's second in command in a cave in central Cyprus today and killed him in an eight-hour gun battle. Four EOKA gunmen, two of them with a $14,000 price on their heads, were captured. A British soldier was slain in the fight.

EOKA, led by former Greek Army Col. George Grivas, who calls himself "Digenis," is the underground fighting arm of the Cypriot organization which demands union of this British colony with Greece. Grivas' second in command, slain today, was Gregoris Afentioti, 27.

BODY FOUND—The body of four-year-old Mary Jane Barker (above) was found yesterday in a closet of an unoccupied home next door to the house in Bellmawr, N. J., where she was last seen alive a week ago.

Labor Rackets Prober Urges Remedial Laws

WASHINGTON, March 3 (P)—Sen. Mundt (R-SD) said today a Senate rackets investigation has already demonstrated a need for legislation to promote better membership control of labor union funds and activities.

Mundt said in an interview the hearings point to legislation to require regular union elections and meetings, safeguard union finances, and prevent "misuse" of union political powers.

He said he based his view not only on the week-long hearings already held but also on "what I know is going to come out" of future hearings. The sessions resume Tuesday.

Union Linked To Rackets

Testimony last week featured allegations of an alliance of Teamsters Union officials and underworld characters in Portland, Ore. "We have a dozen cases as bad as this," Mundt said.

Other members of the special Senate committee probing alleged labor-business racketeering also said they expect remedial labor legislation to grow out of the hearings.

These senators included Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) and Sens. Ervin (D-NC), Goldwater (R-Ariz.) and Ives (R-NY). Most of them felt, however, it is still too early to say just what new laws may be necessary.

Enforcement Problem

Sen. McNamara (D-Mich.), another committee member, said, "There are certainly plenty of laws at the local level to deal with all kinds of corruption—the problem is to get them enforced."

Mundt said the hearings are pointing toward new laws in several different areas of union activity. The first, he said, is to "try to assure the maximum amount of union control by union members."

Coolidge's Widow In Serious Condition

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., March 3 (P)—The 78-year-old widow of President Calvin Coolidge was reported in serious but not critical condition today after what her doctor described as a "cardiac and kidney failure." The name of Mrs. Grace Coolidge was placed on the danger list of Cooley Dickinson Hospital by her physician. She entered the hospital Monday.

Nixon Receives Rousing Welcome To Gold Coast

ACCRA, Gold Coast, March 3 (P)—Vice President Nixon, suffering from a touch of the flu, arrived in the African Gold Coast today to the cheers of 10,000 natives screaming, "Freedom! Freedom!"

Nixon's plane touched down after a bumpy 11-hour flight from Morocco, where Nixon began his African good-will visit Friday. The vice president, who has been hit by a chest cold and sore throat, nevertheless shook hands with scores of spectators who thronged the airport.

As head of a five-man United States delegation, Nixon will represent the American government at ceremonies Wednesday making this British colony the independent nation of Ghana. With his wife standing at his

Dog Which Had Vanished With Girl Still Alive

BELLMAWR, N.J., March 3 (P)—A four-year-old girl, missing for a week, was found dead today in an unoccupied home next door to the house where she was last seen alive. A puppy which was missing with her was still alive. The child, Mary Jane Barker, was found cuddled in a corner of a closet in the newly built home. Police Chief Edward Garrity said indications were that she had been placed there only recently. House Had Been Searched

It was not immediately learned how she died, and Coroner Robert J. Blake said that information would have to await the outcome of an autopsy.

Garrity said the house had been searched at least three times since the girl disappeared and he was "almost positive" they had checked the closet. He said the closet was not locked when the girl's body was found.

Police said Mary Jane's body was found by the six-year-old girl with whom she had been playing before she disappeared.

Dog Still Frisky

The girl, Maria Farietta, and her aunt, who owned the home, went together to look over the home, which the aunt was planning to occupy soon. Garrity said the youngster by chance opened one of the closets. Her puppy, which had disappeared with Mary Jane, jumped out, still frisky. The child spotted the body and screamed, bringing her aunt running from another part of the house. Then both ran screaming outside and the police were notified.

The house is about two blocks from the Barker home, in a residential district of Bellmawr.

The child's body was removed to a Camden County hospital for further check in an effort to determine the cause of death.

Wrecked Plane Found; All Five Aboard Killed

PORT ANGELES, Wash., Mar. 3 (P)—A ground party reached the broken, burned wreckage of an Alaska Airlines DC4 today and radioed back that all five aboard were killed when it crashed late yesterday in the Olympic Mountain foothills.

Bodies of the two passengers, pilot, copilot and stewardess were found in the shattered airliner, the Coast Guard air station here reported.

The Coast Guard party and a Mountain Rescue Council team ferried in by helicopter remained at the scene to arrange for bringing out the bodies.

The downed DC4 was spotted this morning by a Coast Guard helicopter pilot near the top of a heavily timbered saddleback at 2,000-foot elevation.

The airliner crashed just 18 minutes away from the end of a 1,556-mile flight from Fairbanks to Seattle.

Last word from the airliner was at 5:16 p.m. yesterday when the pilot, Capt. Larry Currie of Seattle, radioed he had just reached northwest Washington over Dungeness, 20 miles east of here and 18 minutes out of Seattle.

Ambassador Hints Pullout To Start Soon

Eban Says Policy Unchanged, Won't Admit Any Delay

WASHINGTON, March 3 (P)—Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban dropped a broad hint today his country will announce an end tomorrow of its delay in withdrawing from the Gulf of Aqaba and Gaza Strip.

Eban, appearing on a TV panel show (CBS Face the Nation), refused to admit there was a delay in carrying out withdrawal plans announced in the U.N. General Assembly Friday by Israeli Foreign Minister Golda Meir.

But he told his questioners: "Whatever is obscure today will probably be clear tomorrow."

Eban, who was in New York for the TV appearance, said he will address the General Assembly tomorrow to "make our position clear." He emphasized that the Israeli cabinet, which met urgently yesterday and today in Jerusalem on the withdrawal issue, announced it would hold a "concluding session" tomorrow.

Ike Hopes For Speed

The ambassador said the Cabinet sessions were held to review latest developments, including President Eisenhower's letter last night to Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion. Eisenhower expressed hope the withdrawal would be carried out with "utmost speed."

Several times during the questioning Eban said Mrs. Meir's U.N. statement of Friday "taken as a whole represents our policy." He insisted there has been no "reconsideration" of that policy.

Eban's apparent optimism that Israel would go through with the withdrawal coincided with the view expressed privately by diplomatic officials here. They said they expected the pull-out to start by mid week, barring unforeseen hitches.

Warning To Egypt

Eban said Israel fully expects Egypt to drop its seven-year-old blockade of Israeli shipping through the Suez Canal once that waterway is reopened. Any attempt by Egypt to reimpose the Suez blockade, Eban said, would be a "warlike act and the consequences would be of the utmost gravity."

Eban declined to say, when pressed, whether such an event might lead to another military campaign such as the Oct. 29 Israeli invasion of Egypt. He said he did not "want to think as far ahead as that."

Eban emphasized that Israel has made clear in the U.N. that it will fight in self defense if Egypt attempts to resume border raids or blockades of the Gulf of Aqaba and Seuz.

Jolie Gabor Wed For Third Time; Daughters Weep

NEW YORK, March 3 (P)—Mrs. Jolie Gabor, mother of the much-wedded beauties Zsa Zsa and Magda, took Hungarian refugee Edmond Szegedy for her third husband today.

Some students of the Gabor female line say the marriage was the 14th for the family, listing Magda and Zsa Zsa with four each and Eva with three.

Jolie, who says she is 54, wore a green embroidered satin gown with pink roses. She was flanked by tearful Zsa Zsa and Magda, in whose Manhattan apartment the vows were taken.

Eva was in Hollywood and unable to attend.

The tall and graying bridegroom, 47, married once before, spoke little English but through an interpreter said he was "very happy."

Turncoat Returns To Tearful Reunion

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 3 (P)—Samuel David Hawkins, 23, Korean War turncoat, landed at Municipal Airport here today, climaxing his journey which began at Peiping, China last Monday.

Some 400 persons witnessed the tearful reunion of the six foot, handsome Hawkins and his mother, Mrs. Carley Jones Oklahoma City.

Hawkins, who refused to return to America from the Red China prisoner of war camp at the end of the Korean War, was smiling but tremulous.

He had not seen his mother since he was a soldier of 16. He was captured by the Reds only two months after turning 17.

Hungary Reds Warn Against New Uprising

VIENNA, Austria, March 3 (P)—The Hungarian government boasted today in its official press and radio that Hungary's anti-Communists will be annihilated if they attempt another armed revolution.

It was the Communists' sharp warning yet to Hungarian survivors of the October-November revolt, who have been spreading slogans calling for new uprisings and demonstrations this month and in June.

The official Hungarian Communist organ, Nepszabadsag, in an article broadcast by Radio Budapest, claimed:

"Majority" Of Rebels In Jail
"The counterrevolutionaries can no longer hope to stage another large-scale action because the majority of them are in jail. Our new militia will hit them without mercy and annihilate all of them."

A warning from Nepszabadsag yesterday said that Communist summary courts, which have been sentencing hundreds of anti-Communists to death and imprisonment, would continue to operate until all resistance is crushed.

Nepszabadsag cautioned, however, that overzealous police and courts should not "misuse the policy of the hard fist to violate legality."

Slogan Rivalry

The Communists also appeared to be taking over the underground slogan "MUK." Made up of the initial letters of three Hungarian words, this means "In March we start again." It is believed to call for demonstrations especially on March 15, anniversary of the Hungarians' 1848 revolt against the imperial Hapsburgs. Russian troops helped crush that revolt, too.

Nepszabadsag reported new posters had been placed on Hungarian walls depicting a farmer leaning on his plow and the inscription, "In March we start again."

"This is certainly not a counterrevolutionary slogan but a call to the farmers to begin plowing and sowing," said the Communist paper.

It claimed law and order have been restored in Hungary and asserted that 200,000 Hungarians have joined the new Communist party—called the Socialist Workers party—headed by Premier Janos Kadar. This is only about a fourth of the membership of the old Communist party, which virtually disintegrated in the revolution.

Meanwhile, Communist border controls have become so tight that last night not a single Hungarian refugee was able to reach Austria.

Guest Is Reported Missing In Hotel Fire

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 3 (P)—The six-story Jerome Hotel and an adjoining restaurant were destroyed by a fire that caused about 20 hotel guests to be evacuated early today.

Walter Haber, 67, a permanent guest, was reported missing.

Charles Wilson, a porter, discovered the fire about 2:30 a.m. when he saw smoke coming from the two-story restaurant building. He ran through the hotel awaking guests.

Three Missing Girls Reported Safe But Broke

CHICAGO, March 3 (P)—Three Chicago high school girls, missing since they borrowed a station wagon to drive around the block four days ago, were reported safe, well and broke today in Greenville, S.C.

Virginia Mott, 16, telephoned her father, Ralph, to report the trio had virtually run out of money after reaching Greenville. They decided to spend their remaining three dollars on a long-distance call for funds. She told her father that all were well.

The other two girls, both 16, are Kathleen Sheehan, daughter of Rep. Timothy Sheehan (R-Ill.), and Julianne Gerrits.

Woman Lawyer In McClellan's Firm Vanishes

CAMDEN, Ark., March 3 (P)—State Police have issued an all-point search bulletin for Mrs. Maude Crawford, prominent woman lawyer who, they said, disappeared from her home under mysterious circumstances shortly before midnight last night.

Mrs. Crawford, 58, was a member of the Camden law firm of Goughan, McClellan and Laney. The McClellan of the firm is Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.), the state's senior senator.

Camden police said Mrs. Crawford's husband, Clyde, 60, told them he left the couple's house to go to a movie about 8 p.m.

When he returned, Patrolman Albert Bell quoted him as saying, Mrs. Crawford had vanished.

The television set was playing and several lights were on in the house, Crawford told police. Legal papers on which his wife had been working were spread on a table.

Police said there were no signs of a disturbance.

The Crawfords owned a Dalmatian dog which, according to Mrs. Pauline Abels, a family friend, "wouldn't let anyone get near Mrs. Crawford." The dog greeted Crawford and appeared unharmed.

Truman Calls Situation 'Dark And Full Of Peril'

OMAHA, March 3 (P)—Former President Harry S. Truman charged tonight that "as the result of drift and procrastination" not only the Middle East but Europe has been threatened and our own defenses have been weakened.

"The present situation is dark and full of peril," said Truman.

"Although the Eisenhower Middle East plan at long last is a beginning, by itself its chances of solving the problem are very limited."

Truman's remarks were prepared for delivery to a dinner at Omaha's Beth Israel Synagogue citing Truman for his contributions to America, Israel and humanity.

"The present strategy of the administration seems to be to leave

Cabinet Still Divided Over Withdrawing

Life Of Ben-Gurion Government Could Hinge On Question

JERUSALEM, March 3 (P)—Defiant Israel deferred again today a fateful decision on whether she will withdraw from the Aqaba Gulf coast and the Gaza Strip.

Premier David Ben-Gurion's government promised a yes or no tomorrow. There were hints the answer could be no.

While Hebrew newspapers used such terms as "deceit" and "treachery" in criticism of the American stand for withdrawal, Ben-Gurion met with his Cabinet and studied a message from President Eisenhower in an inconclusive four-hour session.

Eisenhower said he hoped the pullout "will go forward with the utmost speed." He pledged the United States will work to help realize Israel's hopes for peace and security in the Middle East.

Eban's Report Studied

Also studied was Ambassador Abba Eban's report on his talk in Washington last night with U.S. Secretary of State Dulles, arranged hurriedly in response to a Cabinet request for clarification of the United States' position. The ministers were reported to regard this report as not wholly satisfactory.

A government source said U.S. Ambassador Edward Lawson delivered the official text of the Eisenhower message and that Ben-Gurion told Lawson he will reply after a decision is reached.

The source said the Cabinet decided that if it cannot reach agreement tomorrow on its course it will throw the whole question into Parliament.

Government Could Fall

If developments in Parliament force Ben-Gurion and his Cabinet to resign, it was considered likely Ben-Gurion, as leader of the country's biggest party, would be asked by President Izhak Ben-Zvi to try to form a new Cabinet.

The Premier, still lacking the ironclad guarantees he has sought for Israel's security at home and at sea, said he would announce the decision to Parliament tomorrow, after another Cabinet meeting.

A government source said there would have been no reason for the meeting tomorrow if Eban's report on his Saturday night session with Dulles had reflected an American position acceptable to Israel.

Egypt Disowns Any 'Bargains'

CAIRO, March 3 (P)—Two Cairo newspapers said today Egypt is not bound by any "bargains" which may have been made to induce Israel to withdraw from the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba.

All the city's morning papers said in editorials they more or less expected current Israeli delay in withdrawing.

"It is an obvious fact there is a bargain between Israel and America on freedom in the Aqaba Gulf and the future of the Gaza Strip," said El Ahran, even though the United States has said withdrawal would be complete and unconditional.

"But this does not interest Egypt, since whatever the results Egypt is not bound" by any bargains, the paper added. It expressed doubt about Israel's statement Friday that she will withdraw, because "we have experienced her treachery and breaking of promises" in the past.

6-Week-Old Monaco Princess Christened

MONTE CARLO, Monaco, Mar. 23 (P)—The 6-week-old daughter of Princess Grace and Prince Rainier was christened today in the ornate, flower-bedecked Cathedral of Monaco.

A thousand guests jammed the cathedral to hear Bishop Gilles Barthe pronounce the traditional words: "Caroline Louise Marguerite, I baptize you in the name of the Father and the Son and the Holy Ghost."

The little princess squaled lustily in the arms of her godmother, 10-year-old Margaret Davis of Philadelphia, niece of Princess Grace. Her godfather, Hungarian-born 17-year-old Prince George Festetics, stood solemnly by holding the infant's right hand.

Bowery Street Project May Start In May

Frostburg Council To Discuss Plan

FROSTBURG — Mayor Joseph James has been informed by officials of the Maryland State Roads Commission that work on the Bowery Street paving project has been tentatively scheduled to begin in May.

As a number of preliminary projects such as the renewing of gas and water lines, the relocation of utility poles and lines, and the location of sewer catch basins must be planned and completed before the actual surfacing of Bowery Street can be done. James feels that no time should be lost in clearing up such details.

James was surprised to learn in his talks with the State Roads men that by accepting funds from the federal government agency to cover half of the cost of this project it is mandatory that all parking on the street be forbidden, day or night. James was not aware of this provision in the agreement, and he feels that the citizens effected should be made aware of the situation before the work is begun.

Funds to finance the widening, repaving and resurfacing of Bowery Street will be secured as follows: Federal government will pay one half of the total cost of the undertaking; property owners on either side of the street will be asked to pay one sixth of the cost, and the City of Frostburg will also pay one sixth.

The regular meeting of the Mayor and Commissioners will be held in the council chamber this evening, and it has been suggested by Mayor James that persons interested in the Bowery Street paving project, either for or against, be present to discuss the matter. Apparently the "no parking at any time" angle has not been brought to the attention of the property owners, and James feels that it should be clearly understood by all concerned before final action is taken on the matter.

The children's service will be at 3:30 p. m. and will include Stations of the Cross followed by an instruction period. At 7:30 p. m. there will be the regular mid-week service with the recitation of the Penitential Office and the Litany and an address by Robert Miller of the Church Army who is the Parish assistant. The Rector will conduct the question box answering questions publicly that have been submitted by communicants and others.

On Thursday there will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at 9:30 a. m. and the Rector will give a brief meditation of a hymn. All of these services will continue at the same hours throughout the Lenten Season. The public is invited to attend.

Retired Admiral Cited For Drunken Driving

PALO ALTO, Calif., March 3 (AP)—A retired Navy admiral was cited for drunken driving yesterday on El Camino Real, a major highway of the San Francisco Bay peninsula.

FROSTBURG — Miss Mary Wise, county home demonstration agent, spoke to the Frostburg Homemakers' Club recently at State Teachers College using as her subject, "Simplification of Housework." She pointed out that each homemaker should decide for herself the best plan for her, keeping in mind her own likes and dislikes, health, and the time she has to spend on it.

Miss Wise said to keep six suggestions in mind when planning housework: Keep everything within easy reach; work in a comfortable position; use best equipment and tools for the job; combine jobs and parts of a job; leave out any part of a job you can and use both hands.

Miss Wise also announced that the short course would be held at the University of Maryland from June 17 to 20. She urged members to try to interest other homemakers in attending.

Plans are being made for an executive board covered dish luncheon at the home of Mrs. Alfred Fritz, 259 East Main Street March 13 at noon. All officers and committee chairmen are to attend.

The next meeting of the club will be held March 26 at the college. A demonstration will be given on "How To Set A Pretty Table." The committee for the March meeting includes Mesdames Alfred Fritz, chairman, George Ewing, George Griffith, Robert Hager, Charles Hager, Allen Hager, and Edgar Harvey Stahlman.

Miss Jane Rizer Is Music Queen

MT. SAVAGE — Jane Rizer was crowned music queen at the annual music festival presented Thursday night at Mount Savage School. She received a bouquet of roses and a gift.

The two other candidates named in the senior chorus and band are Laura Jean House and Margaret Holt.

The Junior Chorus sang "Dreamy" and "Halla-lo-Halla-lo." William Murphy played a trumpet solo, "The Magic Trumpet."

The band played "Islands of the Coronados," "Proud Heritage," "Washington and Lee Swing," "The Old Refrain," "El Dorado," and celestios from "El Trovatore."

Ellerslie 4-H Meets

ELLERSLIE—The 4-H Club met Friday evening at the home of Becky and Lettie Stahlman. Myrna Miller, president was in charge of the meeting. Members are going to plan a program to present to the Homemakers Club March 26. Girls worked on their sewing baskets.

Refreshments were served by the hostess's mother, Mrs. Ruth Stahlman.

Record 7,685,000 On Public Payrolls As Of Last October

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—A record 7,685,000 persons were on public payrolls last October. They drew paychecks totaling $2,509,400,000 for the month, the Census Bureau reported today.

This compared with 7,432,000 on public payrolls and drawing paychecks totaling $2,264,500,000 in October, 1955.

The bureau's annual survey—always taken in October—showed that almost five of every 100 persons in the United States are on public payrolls.

Local governments accounted for more than half the total number of employees and almost half the total payroll. The federal government was next in both categories, followed by state governments.

The breakdown by employees and payrolls showed: Local governments, 3,953,000 and $1,184,100,000; federal government (civilian), 2,410,000 and $943,700,000; state governments, 1,332,000 and $381,600,000.

Although the federal payroll hit a record monthly high of nearly 95 million dollars, the number of employees has been exceeded seven times since the survey began in 1940. The peak was in 1945, last year of World War II, when there were more than 3-1/3 million employees.

The October 1956 figure of 2,410,000 federal workers is the highest since President Eisenhower took office in 1953, but is almost 200,000 lower than in 1952, the last year of the Truman administration.

The Census Bureau said education accounts for 30 per cent of all public employees and national defense about 15 per cent; health

Fugitive Nabbed In Washington

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—FBI agents and Washington police arrested Charles North Jenkins in a rooming house today on a charge of assaulting a Georgia marshal, robbing him, tying him to a tree, and escaping.

The FBI said Jenkins had dyed his hair red, was living under the name "Jerome Kelly," and had two .22 calibre guns in his possession.

A 27-year-old carnival worker and painter from McKeesport, Pa., Jenkins—according to the FBI—was being transported from Macon, Ga. last Jan. 18 to Baltimore along with other prisoners.

The FBI said Jenkins suddenly assaulted marshal Billy Carlisle of the middle district of Georgia at Red Springs, N.C.

Then, agents said, he tied Carlisle, a guard and another prisoner to a tree and got away in the marshal's car.

Escaping with Jenkins, the FBI said, was Paul Thompson, who was rearrested at New Orleans Feb. 10.

Jenkins is wanted in Baltimore on a charge of robbery, the FBI said.

Jesuit Order's TV Applications Draw Challenge

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—A predominantly Protestant organization said today it has asked the Federal Communications Commission to deny television licenses to Jesuit universities in New Orleans and St. Louis.

Protestants and other Americans United for Separation of Church and State said it based the appeal on a contention that the Jesuit order—the Roman Catholic Society of Jesus—is an alien organization and thus ineligible for a license.

The license applications involved are by Loyola University at New Orleans for channel 4 in that city, and St. Louis Telecast, Inc., for channel 11 in St. Louis.

Glenn L. Archer, executive director of Protestants and other Americans United, said FCC hearing testimony showed that St. Louis telecast is controlled by St. Louis University, a Jesuit school.

In a letter to Chairman George C. McConaughy of the FCC, Archer said supervising boards of the two universities are subject to removal by the Jesuit superior general who is not an American citizen, and that ultimate control is lodged outside the United States.

He argued that granting the schools TV licenses would violate a provision of the Communications Act which says licenses "should not be granted to or held by any alien or the representative of an alien."

Former Commander Of Md. Legion Dies

SNOW HILL, Md., March 3 (AP)—Capt. Lemuel M. Stevens, USN ret., a former State commander of the American Legion, died today at his home here. He was about 70.

Capt. Stevens was retired from the Navy prior to 1940 but returned to active duty during World War II and commanded the Brooklyn Navy Yard and later was dean of the Naval College at the University of Pennsylvania.

Capt. Stevens was commander of the Maryland American Legion in 1950 and 1951. He also was a member of the Snow Hill City Council.

PARIS, March 3 (AP)—Eight American-built helicopters flew from Brussels to Paris in just over two hours today, inaugurating direct helicopter service between the hearts of the two cities.

PRR Train Fire Curbed With Aid Of Radio System

MIFFLIN, Pa., March 3 (AP)—A telephone conversation today between engineers on two moving Pennsylvania Railroad trains may have been responsible for confining a fire to a mail car on a west-bound passenger.

A railroad spokesman said the engineer on an east-bound freight saw a mail car afire on a New York - to - Pittsburgh passenger train. He used the railroad's radio-telephone system and notified the engineer whose train had the burning car.

The fire was spotted shortly after the passenger train, No. 25, had pulled out of Mifflin. The train was stopped within a half mile and the Mifflin fire department rushed to fight the blaze.

A watcher on duty in a nearby railroad tower overheard the conversation and alerted the fire company.

A railroad spokesman said the passenger engineer dropped the burning car on a siding where the fire company was ready to go to work.

Concert Via School TV Circuit Planned

HAGERSTOWN, March 3 (AP)—The closed-circuit television hookup linking Washington County schools, used thus far for instruction only, will take a fling at educational entertainment next Wednesday.

The New York Woodwind Quintette will present a concert for the youngsters, via their classroom TV sets.

The concert will be sponsored—without commercials—by New Town Concert, Inc., a non-profit group. The Washington County Museum of Fine Arts and the county school board.

Ike To Commute To Golf Course Via Helicopter

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—President Eisenhower is going to use helicopters to fly between the White House and his favorite local golf course, thus avoiding street traffic.

Sources reporting this today said two helicopters have been selected for the President. They are small, four-place Bell machines of the familiar glass bubble type. The first will be flown here this week from the Bell Aircraft Co. plant at Fort Worth, Tex.

The White House announced recently that plans were under way for the President to use a helicopter to avoid automobile congestion on trips between the White House and National Airport, but nothing was said of any plans for commuting to the golf course. This usually involved an even greater traffic problem.

The helicopters will be stationed at the Military Air Transport Service operation center at the airport and will be able to operate from the White House lawn, a fairway at the suburban Burning Tree Golf Club, or any convenient open space.

The distance from the White House to Burning Tree is 9.4 miles by helicopter.

Later this year the President may use a larger Sikorsky transport-type helicopter, the new S58, for the longer flights between Washington and his Gettysburg, Pa. farm.

Mystery Planes Over Mideast Areas

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—and, since it's rather mysterious, people have no way of identifying them. Certain planes have been coming over."

Asked by the moderator to elaborate on this statement, Vorys said, apparently with some hesitation: "Well, they're up high and local discussion."

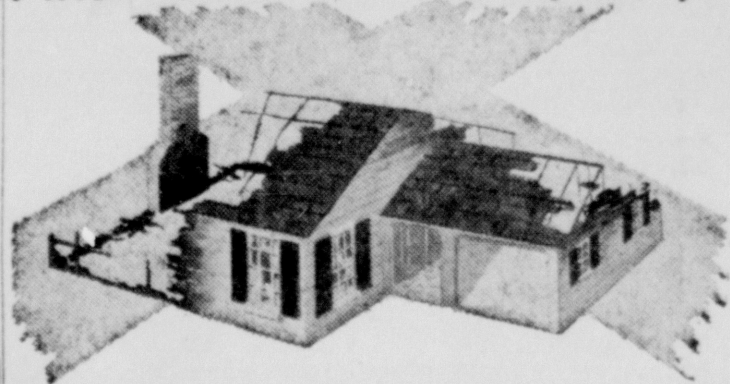

Vorys mentioned such flights, without giving much detail, in response to a question from Rep. Zablocki (D-Wis.) in a televised debate.

Zablocki, who said there is "no need" for the Middle East resolution proposed by President Eisenhower, asked Vorys what evidence he had that any open Communist aggression was "imminent in the Middle East."

Vorys replied there didn't seem to be any danger now of troops crossing any borders. But he added:

"There's the matter of flyovers."

Doctor Schweitzer, Living Legend

Native boatman ferries Dr. Schweitzer across stream. He is on his way to an ailing patient.

MAN OF MERCY. In full manhood Dr. Albert Schweitzer had turned away from brilliant success as a preacher, writer and musician to bury himself as a missionary doctor in Africa.

Dr. Schweitzer conducts Sunday services at Lambarene. He said preaching to him was "a necessity of my being."

A legend in his lifetime, Dr. Albert Schweitzer has achieved world renown as a philosopher, theologian, physician, missionary, organist, and, above all, as one who has devoted his life to serving his fellow men.

At 81, Dr. Schweitzer's activities show no signs of lessening. In his jungle hospital at Lambarene, in French Equatorial Africa, he carries on a routine with the same zest he showed when he first arrived from Alsace 43 years ago to fight tropical disease.

Daily, hundreds of natives, sick and weary of foot, come from afar to be treated by him. The hospital, originally a broken-down hen hut, is now a thriving village-like institution.

On his rare trips away from Africa, Dr. Schweitzer goes mostly to Europe to get medical supplies or to give organ concerts (his edition of Bach's organ works is a standard text) to raise funds for the hospital.

All proceeds from his lectures, concerts and books have gone to Lambarene, as well as the $33,000 from the Nobel Peace Prize he won in 1952. At that time he stated his credo simply:

"You don't live in a world all your own. Your brothers are here, too."

These pictures are from a new biographical film, "Albert Schweitzer." They were taken by Erica Anderson who spent the last six years gathering her material.

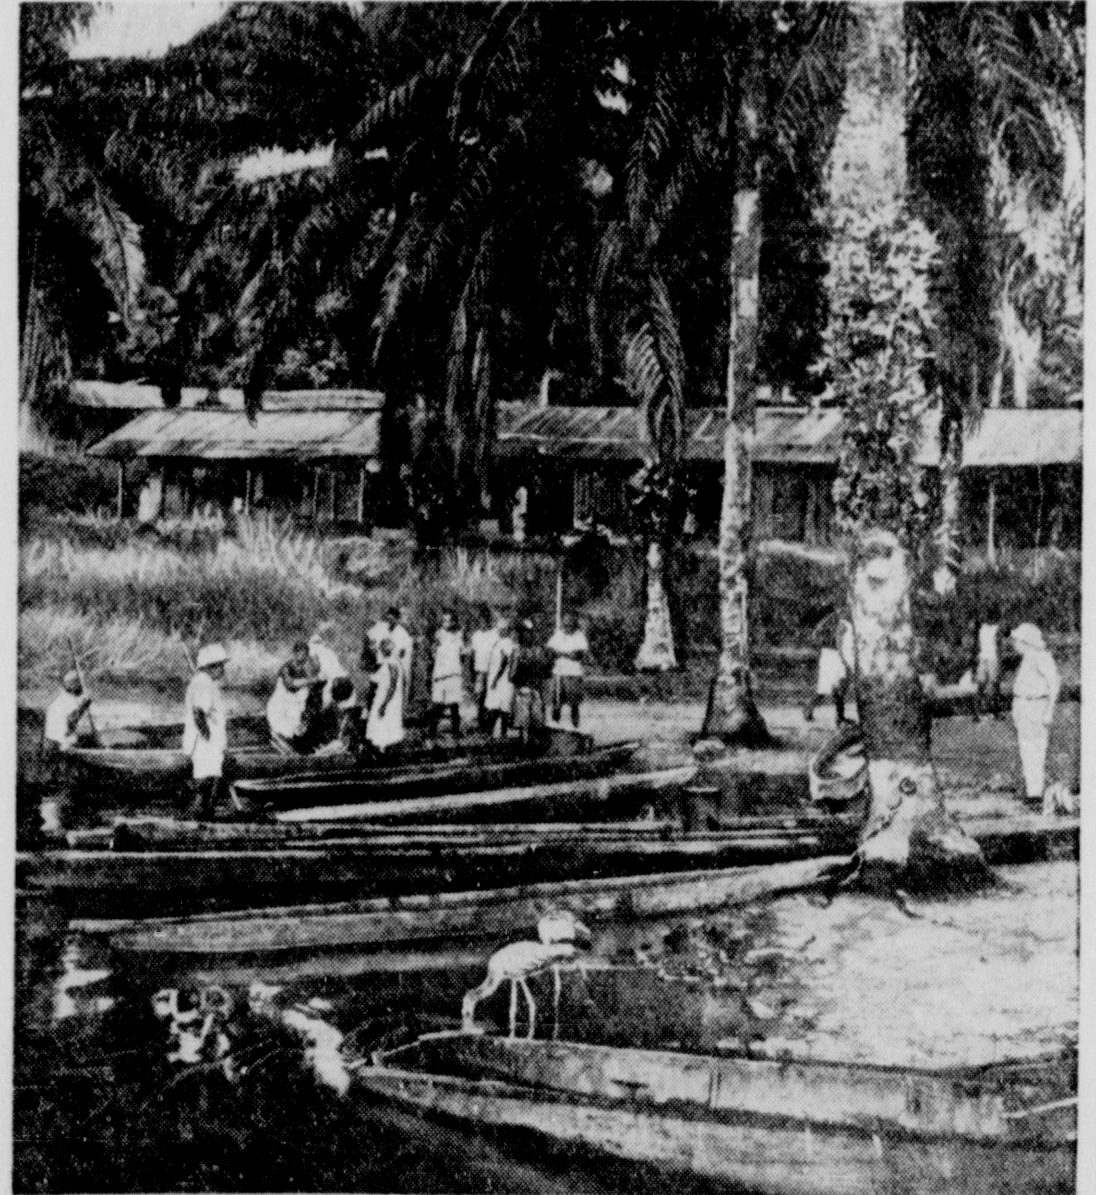

The doctor visits his little patients at the outdoor nursery of his hospital.

For relaxation, he plays a zinc-lined piano, especially built for him to withstand the tropic heat. Piano has pedal keyboard attachment, so that he can keep in practice with his organ music.

A vigorous man, despite his years, he helps with construction of new building for his colony.

Debarkation point for Dr. Schweitzer's hospital village, where patients are brought from miles around. Hospital huts are in the background.

De Valera Runs Again In Eire

The parliamentary elections in Ireland tomorrow will determine who is to be Prime Minister, and on the eve of the voting the betting favors Eire's most colorful political figure, Eamon de Valera, now 74 and almost totally blind.

De Valera's Fianna Fail (Men of Destiny) held 67 of the 147 seats in the Dail dissolved by President Sean T. O'Kelly on February 12. Prime Minister John A. Costello headed a crumbling coalition, hurt by losses in recent special elections and by the breakaway of the Republican Party led by Sean MacBride, former Foreign Minister. Costello's Fine Gael (United Ireland) held 48 seats in the outgoing Dail. The other seats were divided among the Labor party, 18; Clann Talmhan (farmers), 5; Sinn Fein (Republican), 3; Independents, 5 (three voting with the government, two with the opposition). One seat was vacant.

Both of Eire's biggest parties—Fianna Fail and Fine Gael—strongly oppose the use of violence, and both are committed to a solution of Ireland's partition problem by peaceful and constitutional means. But Costello is weakened by Ireland's economic crisis. A nation of about 3 million, Ireland has about 100,000 unemployed workers and is running a serious foreign trade deficit. De Valera is an advocate of pump priming for agricultural and industrial growth. And he is a despiser of coalitions, which, he says, lead to "bad government...bad policies, bad administration, or, through irresolution and indecision, to stagnation." The New York-born de Valera has been a leader in Irish politics since the Easter Rebellion of 1916. For 19 of the past 25 years he has been Prime Minister, suffering defeats only in the special elections of 1948 and 1954.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

When You Deal With Savages

There are 450 American servicemen who are missing and unaccounted for in the Korean War. The Department of Defense takes the position that they are presumed to be dead and their next-of-kin have to be informed. The official State Department attitude is:

"... under the terms of the Korean Armistice Agreement, the Chinese Communists have the obligation to give us whatever information they can about the fate of these men. Despite this obligation, and despite our vigorous efforts at Geneva and at Panmunjom, the Communists have refused to give a satisfactory accounting for these men."

It is impossible to get away from the fact that the Red Chinese refuse to give a satisfactory accounting for these men. They may be alive, sick or dead; they may be happy or miserable. All that their parents can do is keep a light burning in the window in the hope that they may come home one day. This country has been at war with Spaniards, Germans and Japanese, but it has never encountered a foe who disregards the basic amenities among nations which is to treat prisoners of war as innocent persons who obey orders and are caught in an unfortunate situation.

"Theirs not to reason why,
Theirs not to do and die."

The attitude of the State Department is also contained in the phrase: "... In keeping with our country's position that international problems should be resolved without force and threats of force..." But when a country deals with a nation that only knows force and that only respects force, what is the value of a prolonged palaver? It would be just as suitable to hold no conferences, to avoid meetings and to wait until the course of events solved all problems. Certainly there can be no solution in the endless meetings at Geneva.

I am constantly receiving letters from mothers in search of missing sons. There must be more than a casual responsibility on the part of our government for these boys and for the peace of mind of their parents. Granted that the Red Chinese have other purposes than the American negotiators at Geneva. The Americans want the remaining 10 civilians released; they want to know about the 450 American servicemen alive or dead; they want to eliminate the possibility of war over Formosa. The Red Chinese want to be admitted into the United Nations and if possible, they want to be recognized by the United States.

Obviously there can be no meeting of the minds. The Red Chinese are in a position to say that the United States begs the issue: the Americans can say that the Red Chinese are blackmailing them for a seat in the United Nations. However you look at it, it is a dreadfully bad situation, particularly for the parents of the 450 for whom there may not even be a decent grave.

A complicating factor in this situation is that we never were at war with Red China. It was a United Nations police action against North Korea. After General Douglas MacArthur had virtually defeated the North Koreans, the Red Chinese took over this war as volunteers. But it was not really a war, although many were killed in it. It was a police action like the present United Nations patrol along the banks of the Suez and in the Sinai Peninsula. So, if the United Nations takes over the Gaza Strip, it would not be imperialism; it will be an international police action to keep Israel and Egypt separated. A fight might be very disturbing, indeed. And so, these countries must be separated.

Thus far, no American troops are involved in the Suez police action nor will they be in the Gaza police action. Up to now, the United Nations has not favored the larger countries getting into it, but there is no telling what can happen, particularly as the Eisenhower Doctrine calls for the United States sending troops to any Middle Eastern country that wants aid against the Communists. There is no telling how large a force that might commit. There is no telling whether an Arab country asking aid against Russia might, in time, ask Russia for aid against the United States. This is a mixed up world and all sorts of things happen.

Now—How About Him?

Khrushchev As A Symbol Of Soviet Society

PARIS

By Joseph Alsop

An attempt to analyze the character of a single individual may seem an odd first installment of an attempt to sum up seven experience-packed weeks in a country of more than 200 million people. Yet I think all the same that Nikita S. Khrushchev is a useful human symbol of the strange society which he leads.

For one thing, despite the rumors to the contrary, this powerful, resilient, gutta percha-like man has almost certainly been strengthening his position as first among the equals of the Soviet ruling collective. It was highly significant, for instance, that Khrushchev, the Party Secretary, rather than Bulganin, the Chairman of the Ministerial Council, presented the staggering new plan of administrative and economic re-organization to the recent Plenum of the Communist Central Committee.

Under Soviet practice, this makes the new program a Khrushchev program. The right comparison is the only slightly less staggering new lands program, with its total investment of more than $3 billion dollars and its human movement of about 800,000 farm workers, which is also a Khrushchev program.

In the circumstances, in truth, it is rather more likely that Nikita Khrushchev will eventually combine the two key posts now divided between himself and Bulganin, than that he will be replaced as first among the equals by someone else. What then is the character of this representative Soviet leader?

The record tells a good deal. Khrushchev danced the "Gopak" and pacified the Ukraine with an iron hand for Josef Stalin. He reached his present great position in a period when no man's back was safe from the dagger of intrigue, a period when the struggle for survival at the Soviet summit was quite literally a struggle to the death. He must be tough. He must be astute. He must have a talent for survival. Otherwise he would not have survived.

It may seem presumptuous to think that one can add much to these established facts on the basis of a mere conversation—even a very frank conversation that continued for two hours. Yet as I watched and listened to Nikita Khrushchev the other day, certain of his traits seemed to stand out in a way that was indisputable.

He is, first of all, possessed of an incomparable energy, an astonishing zest and gusto. When he and Bulganin returned from their grueling trip to India, the exhausted Bulganin had to take to his bed for a few days. But Khrushchev resumed his ordinary duties with the air of having enjoyed the rest cure. In the same manner, when I saw him, he had just finished a pretty rough two weeks, with the Supreme Soviet, the Central Committee Plenum, the changes in the Foreign Ministry, the big program of administrative re-organization, and all sorts of other tasks crowding in together. But he still seemed just as bouncing gutta percha-like as when I first saw him toasting Chou En Lai in high good humor at the Kremlin.

Then, too, as he talked of foreign and then of domestic policy, it became clearer that Nikita Khrushchev is a cool but immensely bold gambler. His new lands plow-up is a tremendous gamble with the climate. The shakeup of the whole Soviet economic and industrial apparatus that he is now sponsoring is a tremendous administrative gamble. If you study it carefully, Soviet foreign policy in the Khrushchev era has also been considerably more adventurous than Stalin's foreign policy, except at the moment of Korea.

Yet the immensity of the stakes upon the table (stakes which of course quite possibly include Khrushchev's own future) did not seem to dismay him in the least. On the contrary, he positively

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

This is the day they used to inaugurate Presidents under the old Constitution.

That was before the do-it-yourself boys started fitting amendments into the loose-leaf preambles.

The Inaugurals were set for March Fourth to give George Washington time to ride his old gray mare from Mount Vernon. The old boss threw more shoes than a crazy cobbler.

First prexy I saw inaugurated was Bill Taft, the only man who could march four abreast. He came up Pennsylvania Avenue in a curb-to-curb blizzard.

Next was Woodrow Wilson who kept us out of the war until we got into it. One hundred thousand happy Democrats paraded up Pennsylvania Avenue and just made the bends.

Then came Harding who looked like he was drowning in high hats. I had left Washington in 1915 but came back for the winter sports. Plenty of slush for all the lads.

Herbert Hoover was still a March baby and the plumbing froze. When Franklin Delano took over he moved the Inaugural up. Truman and Ike were installed in January and there the resemblance ends.

Next improvement in our legislative and economic apparatus will be a ski-lift on Capitol Hill. (Distributed by INS)

The Menace Of The Accident-Prone Driver

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The slogan, "Safety First," has taken us through many accident campaigns. The same can be said of "The life you save may be your own." These mottoes have been repeated so often they are becoming part of our way of life.

Most of us know the meaning of safety but few think of it in terms of the other fellow. In this respect such slogans do not encompass the golden rule. Safety is relative; an individual may be careless even though he considers himself a safe driver.

An editorial in Military Medicine cites the example of a man who feels justified in going 90 m.p.h. on a highway because the road is straight and dry and visibility is good. The editors refer to this situation as a fatal fallacy.

The same can be said of driving while intoxicated or weary in the vain hope that the homing instinct will assure safe arrival. Many seasoned drivers become overconfident because of years of experience; they believe the rules of the road are meant for beginners. I've overheard the police excuse an obvious infringement of the traffic laws with the remark, "He is a seasoned bus driver, and knows what he is doing."

It is well known among safety experts that accidents do not just happen. "Luck" has killed more people than "Let's have a drink for the road" or "You can't fly on one wing." The man or woman who has a series of close shaves should stop blaming others and look to himself as the source of trouble. He is accident prone and the next one may not be a near miss.

It has been said that luck ends when a run of accidents totals three. Be cautious after the first and suspect yourself of poor driving after the second. When the third comes along, stop driving.

This brings us back to an idea I have stressed for 12 years. The driver is the most important part of the automobile, and it is brain

Judge Who Tried Caudle, Connelly Thought Trial Unfair, Shot Himself

By Drew Pearson

"They didn't do any more than you or I would have done," he said. He expressed frustration as to how he could write a fair opinion.

To another friend he said: "I've got those poor devils on my hands."

He went out less and less during and after the trial. Mrs. Hulen said the trial preyed on his mind. His doctor had to put him under heavy drugs so he could sleep at night. For a time, during the trial, his mind was such that his doctors considered giving him shock therapy. However, this type of treatment for a mentally ill person causes a complete though temporary loss of memory and would have made it impossible to continue with the trial.

So the shock therapy was postponed until after the trial was over. Thirty minutes before he was to begin that treatment, Judge Hulen killed himself.

Judge Hulen was considered a "tough" judge. He was not easy on defendants. He had also experienced periods of depression prior to this trial. But his doctors found that he got much worse just before and during the trial.

Another Dreyfus Case

If you examine the facts in the case over which Judge Hulen had to preside, you can understand some of the reasons why he might become mentally upset. For the case could turn out to be as unfair as the famous case of Capt. Alfred Dreyfus.

For three years Attorney General Brownell had been probing the various activities of Truman's close friends and officials. Some of them needed probing. Most of them had been pretty well exposed in this column or by Congressional investigation some years before. Obviously, however, a criminal conviction in 1956 would make important campaign material for an election year.

For over two years Brownell had been holding grand juries in St. Louis, Omaha and Kansas City. Harry Truman's home territory. Virtually the same officials were hauled out to testify—ex-Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder, ex-Undersecretary Ed Foley, Caudle, various revenue men. The juries in Kansas City and Omaha were unresponsive. But that in St. Louis was out for blood.

Finally Brownell's boys hit on the case of Irving Sachs, a St. Louis shoe manufacturer suffering from extreme epilepsy. Though there was a call from the White House on Sachs's behalf, and though some wires were pulled, he was sent to trial anyway. He pleaded guilty and was fined $40,000. He also paid fraud penalties of $70,000. Judge Roy Harper ruled against a jail sentence because of health.

This column had carried the full story on April 24, 1950. The story had come from Caudle himself. He was completely frank, had nothing to hide. Almost six years later, well after the statute of limitation had run, Brownell's boys indicted him and Connelly. They took the case before their runaway grand jury in St. Louis, which would have indicted almost anyone close to the Truman administration.

Unfair Trial

Caudle and Connelly then moved for a change of venue. All the discussions of the Sachs case had taken place in Washington, not St. Louis. The witnesses were in Washington, not St. Louis. However, the juries in St. Louis were conviction-minded.

So change of venue was not granted. Caudle and Connelly had to pay the travel expenses and hotel bills of their lawyers and witnesses halfway across the continent. It cost them all the money they had, and then some. They are broke.

At the final trial last spring, part of the Justice Department's case was so flimsy it folded up.

Judge Hulen, sitting on the case, obviously expected an acquittal. He seemed so surprised when the jury brought in a verdict for Brownell's boys that he remarked from the bench to Caudle's and Connelly's attorneys:

"You are going to renew your motion for an acquittal. And you are going to renew your motion for a mistrial."

Charles Margiotti, attorney for Caudle, said: "We renew those motions right now."

"Then I will hear your arguments on July 19," said the judge. He never heard those arguments. On July 7, worried over the case, he took his .32 calibre revolver into his back garden, put it to his temple and pulled the trigger.

The Justice Department, instead of permitting a new trial, placed the written evidence before a completely new judge, Gunnar Nordbye of Minneapolis.

Judge Nordbye read the evidence. He had not sat in any part of the trial. He did not hear the witnesses testify. He did not hear the arguments. He didn't have the feel of the courtroom. He found for the Justice Department, sustained the convictions of Caudle and Connelly.

They are to be sentenced tomorrow.

Ever hear of black radish pills? Neither did I until a friend of mine informed me his physician recommended them as an alternative for surgery in the treatment of gall stones. My friend followed the advice and is now almost completely cured of the aforementioned affliction and says he feels wonderful. He added that his physician told him that years ago in some European countries where doctors were not available or too expensive for them, the peasants consumed black radishes as a method for curing innumerable types of ailments. The results were so successful that physicians took cognizance of the situation and so black radish pills were originated.

West Virginia Deaf Draws Hedgesville In Tournament

Capon Bridge And Vikings Play Friday

Vernon A. Staggers Announces Draw For Region 4 At Keyser

Petersburg High School's Vikings will play Capon Bridge at 7:30 p.m., and Hedgesville will meet the West Virginia School for the Deaf at 9 p.m., in semi-final games in the West Virginia Region Four Class "B" basketball tournament at Potomac State College, Keyser, Friday, it was announced last night by Vernon A. Staggers, principal of Piedmont High School, and director of the two-day tournament.

Meet At Capon Bridge

Director Staggers announced the draw last night following a meeting yesterday with school representatives at Capon Bridge High School in Hampshire county. Attending were Harold Henderson, principal, and Arno Hott, coach, of Capon Bridge High School; Eldon Shipman, principal, Malcolm Norwood, coach, and William Swain, assistant coach of the West Virginia School for the Deaf at Romney; William S. Crites, coach, Petersburg High School, and Robert D. Kilmer, principal, and Charles H. Spencer, coach, Hedgesville High School.

Officials for the games will be appointed by the West Virginia High School Athletic Activities Association of which William R. Fugitt, of Beckley, is executive secretary.

The winner of the Potomac State regional and the victor in the Region III tournament set for Friday and Saturday at Rowlesburg will meet in one of four area contests set for next week at sites to be announced. The four area winners qualify for the state Class "B" games at Marshall College, Huntington, March 22 and 23. Pairings for this week's Rowlesburg regional games are Kingwood vs. Aurora and Coalton vs. Kasson.

Saturday's Winners

West Virginia School for the Deaf (21-2) won the Section 16-B crown at Potomac State College Saturday night by defeating Ridgeley High School, 47-43. Elk Garden downed Piedmont, 66-62 in the consolation final.

Capon Bridge (13-10) whipped Hedgesville's Warriors, 55-51, to annex top honors in the 14-B tournament at Berkeley Springs Saturday night. Berkeley Springs downed Paw Paw, 58-50, in the consolation round finale.

Petersburg's Vikings (12-10) won over Mathias, 67-58, to grab the Section 15-B crown in the tournament at Moorefield. In the consolation game Moorefield High emerged triumphant over Sanders High, also of Moorefield, 79-67.

Hedgesville (19-2) romped off with the Section 13-B event on Friday by defeating Harpers Ferry, 50-40.

Mountaineer Eliminated

Mountaineer High School of Thomas lost out in the finals of the 12-B tournament at Parsons to Kasson High School, 58-57. The win advanced the Barbours county team to the Region III tournament at Rowlesburg this weekend.

Mt. St. Mary's To Meet CCNY Quint Tonight

Plays M-D Tourney Opener Tomorrow

[By The Associated Press] Mt. St. Mary's will be after its fourth consecutive Mason-Dixon Conference basketball tournament championship when the 17th annual post-season playoff opens in Baltimore Tuesday at Loyola College.

The Mounts won the regular season title with a 12-1 record, losing only to Hampden-Sydney 73-63 in a mid-January upset. Their overall mark was 20-4, with the last 15 victories coming in succession.

Play CCNY Tonight As a reward for their efforts, the Mounts were chosen to represent the conference in the NCAA small conference tournament and will play CCNY in the first round Monday night at Emmitsburg. A victory in that game would put Mt. St. Mary's into the March 9th second round and force the Mounts to play five games in six days.

Toughest competition in the league tournament is expected to come from Loyola, the runnerup for the past three seasons and the team which has won the most league titles (6) and tournaments (5) in the past 16 years.

First Round Tests The pairings for the first round look like this:

5:15 p.m.—Catholic U. (12-6) vs. Baltimore U. (8-7)
6:55 p.m.—Roanoke (9-2) vs. Hampden-Sydney (6-6)
8:35 p.m.—Mt. St. Mary's (12-1) vs. Johns Hopkins (6-4)
10:15 p.m.—Loyola (11-12) vs. American U. (7-6)

The final tournament berth was not decided until the final night of the regular schedule, with idle Hampden-Sydney backing into the eighth spot.

It is not surprising of course, that Mt. St. Mary's success during the past four seasons has coincided with the playing career of high-scoring Jack Sullivan. During those four years, Sullivan has made 2,238 points to move into the top dozen scorers in the all time small college list.

Set League Record Sully has tallied 783 points this season, 417 in 13 conference games for a league record average of 32.1.

The league's second leading scorer was Sloan Stewart of Western Maryland who had 346 points for a 23.1 average.

Playoffs To Open In Fearer League

Playoffs in the Fearer Memorial Church Basketball League will get under way tonight at Beall High School with Eckhart Methodist facing Congregational at 6:45 and St. Michael's, undefeated in 15 games, meeting Zion Reformed at 8 p.m. Two other games are set for Tuesday night.

Fights This Week

TONIGHT: Gil Turner, Philadelphia, vs. Rudy Gwin, Cleveland, at St. Nicholas Arena, New York. Telecast by DuMont at 10:30 EST.

WEDNESDAY: Finals in five divisions of Western Golden Gloves tournament at Chicago Stadium. Broadcast and telecast by ABC at 10:30 EST.

FRIDAY: Sugar Hart, Philadelphia, vs. Walt Rivas, Boston, at Madison Square Garden. Broadcast and telecast at 10 p.m. EST.

Hundley Heads Scorers, May Play Thursday

Mountaineers Face Davidson At 2 P.M.

[By The Associated Press] West Virginia's Rod Hundley has won his battle for the Southern Conference basketball scoring crown, and today appeared well on his way to victory in another battle even more important—one against the flu.

The Hot Rod, key man in West Virginia's 12-0 conference season and the fellow Mountaineers are counting on to carry them to a third straight championship, was stricken with a virus infection last Thursday.

Friday, he missed his first game in three varsity seasons. Without Hundley, West Virginia barely squeezed past much-beaten George Washington, 77-75. With the conference tournament coming up this week, the Mountaineer faithful began to worry.

No Cause For Alarm But the word from Morgantown Sunday was there's no cause for alarm. Hundley's up and about again, his temperature's back to normal and by Thursday's opening round of the tournament in Richmond, he'll probably be as healthy as ever.

In his only game last week, the Hot Rod scored 27 points against William and Mary to boost his average to 24.4 per game in 25 starts. Hundley, with 609 points, was the only conference player to collect as many as 600 during the regular season that ended Saturday night.

Marshall Is Second Lee Marshall of Washington and Lee claimed second place in the individual scoring race with 544 points in 24 games for a 22.7 average. Furman's Dick Wright was third with 538 points in 26 starts and an average of 20.7.

Following in order were Dom Flora of Washington and Lee, 18.6; Semi Mintz of Davidson, 18.0; Gene Guarilia of George Washington, 17.1; Teddy Weeks and Dick Wherry of The Citadel, each 16.6; Lloyd Sharrar of West Virginia, 16.5; and Abe Coates of Virginia Tech, 16.4.

Tourney Pairings Richmond (9-7) meets Furman (7-5) in the tournament curtain-raiser Thursday at 2 p.m. West Virginia meets Davidson at 4 p.m. Lower bracket action sends Washington and Lee (10-3) against The Citadel (5-9) at 7:30 p.m. and Virginia Tech against William and Mary (7-11) at 9:30 p.m.

Officials Named For Hubs-Rebels, District Games

Bill Bossi and Alex Rich, Windber Pa., will officiate tonight at Shepherd College in the game between North and South Hagers-town high schools for the Class "A" championship of Washington county.

The same officials will handle the game between Allegheny High of Cumberland and the winner of tonight's game in the opening round of the District No. 1 Class "A" tourney at South Hagers-town High School Friday night at 9 p.m. Bossi and Rich also will officiate in the "A" final in the Hub City Saturday at 9 p.m.

Joe Stanislawczyk, of Keyser, and Floyd "Pete" Elliott, Cumberland, have been selected to officiate in the Class "C" final at Hagerstown Saturday at 6 p.m. between Hancock and Walkersville. The Lightner Brothers, Hagerstown, will work the opening round Class "B" game Friday at 7:30 p.m., between Northern of Garrett county and Thurmont of Frederick county.

Frederick High which drew a bye in the opening round of the Class "A" games at Hagerstown closed its regular schedule Friday with an 85-24 triumph over Annapolis High. The Cadets have won 18 of 20 contests.

Salty Sally, Kayo's Spike Win Trials

Whetstone, Nelson Hounds Best Of 35

Salty Sally, owned by N. O. Whetstone, Osterburg, Pa., and Kayo's Spike, the property of K. O. Nelson, Pinto, Md., were adjudged the winners in the Derby Trial held yesterday by the Allegheny Beagle Club on the Barton Dairy Farm, McMullen Highway.

Salty Sally was selected by the judges, Ivan Rhoads, St. Michael, Pa., and James Hinkle, Cumberland, as the best of the 21 entries in the 13 inch class.

Judges Rolla Kester, Pinto, and Elmer Winter, Cresaptown, named Kayo's Spike as the best of 14 entries in the 15 inch competition.

The four place hounds in each class qualified for the Penn Central Association Winners' Stake at the Cambria Beagle Club, South Fork, Pa., April 13 and 14.

A qualifying Derby trial for the Eastern Federation Winners' Stake will be held by the Allegheny Beagle Club, March 17.

Brain Operation Is Performed On Injured Fighter

Olson's Condition Reported Critical

PORTLAND, Ore., March 3.—Heavyweight Bruce Olson remained in critical condition today following surgery for a brain hemorrhage he suffered when he was knocked out here last night in his ninth professional bout.

Boxing Commission physician Dr. Clinton McGill said it was "touch and go" before a team of neurosurgeons performed the 2½ hour emergency operation here this morning on the 24-year-old Kent, Wash., fighter.

McGill said the hemorrhage was found after seven holes had been drilled in Olson's skull. He said it was too early to tell if the 6-foot-4, 266-pound fighter would have what he termed "any permanent injury." He said Olson was conscious this afternoon and had taken a small amount of nourishment.

Olson was knocked out in the sixth round of a scheduled 10-round main event with Ewart Potgieter, a South African who weighs 330 pounds and is 7-foot-2.

Olson was unconscious in the ring for about 30 seconds, McGill said, regained consciousness for about a minute and then collapsed.

Only 18 days ago in Seattle Olson lost on a technical knockout to Terry Lewis. McGill said he had not been told of that fight prior to the Portland bout.

Olson's manager, Maxie Weisparth of Seattle, said Olson had won 31 of 33 amateur bouts and had six professional wins. He and Mr. Gill both said Olson would never fight again.

Eastern Regional NCAA Tournament Draw Announced

NEW YORK, March 3.—(INS)—The eastern regional first round draw in the NCAA national collegiate basketball championship tournament was announced today in New York.

Connecticut (17-7) will meet Syracuse (15-6) while Canisius (20-5) goes against the Southern Conference representative and the Ivy League team meets the Atlantic Coast Conference champ.

The games will be played in a triple header March 12 at Madison Square Garden.

West Virginia (22-4) is expected to get the Southern nod when the hoop holds its tourney starting this Thursday in Richmond.

On the same day the AAC tourney opens in Raleigh and North Carolina (24-0) is favored to get the nod there. Yale and Dartmouth still are battling for the Ivy League title.

Local VFW Win, 2-1

The Cumberland V.F.W., won two out of three games from the Fort Ashby V.F.W. yesterday in an Allegheny County Men's Shuffleboard League match at Fort Ashby. Bujae was high scorer for Cumberland with 28 points. Kenny Miller paced Fort Ashby with 18 tallies.

North Carolina Draws Clemson In Tournament

Maryland Opposes Virginia Thursday

RALEIGH, N. C., March 3.—(AP)—Undefeated North Carolina, the nation's No. 1 team, will face Clemson in a first round game of the Atlantic Coast Conference Basketball Tournament opening here Thursday.

Because of ties in the final standings, drawings were made here today to determine the fourth and fifth place teams and the seventh and eighth teams.

Clemson and Virginia, tied for the cellar with 3-1 conference records, drew for seventh. Clemson lost and as the No. 8 team automatically drew top seeded North Carolina, 24-0 overall and 14-0 in the ACC, in one of the four opening games.

As the No. 7 team, Virginia will meet second place Maryland. The No. 3 team, Duke, will play the No. 6 team, South Carolina.

Wake Forest and North Carolina State tied for fourth at 7-7. Wake Forest won the drawing, but still will play State in an opening game since the pairings pit the No. 4 and 5 teams.

The opening round games, overall and ACC results in parenthesis: Lower bracket:

Duke (13-10, 8-6) vs. South Carolina (15-11, 5-9) at 2 p.m.
Maryland (15-9, 9-5) vs. Virginia (6-18, 3-11) at 4 p.m.

Upper bracket:
North Carolina (24-0, 14-0) vs. Clemson (7-16, 3-11) at 7:30 p.m.
Wake Forest (18-8, 7-7) vs. North Carolina State (15-10, 7-7) at 9 p.m.

In the semifinals Friday night, the upper bracket winners will meet at 7:30 and the lower bracket winners at 9:30. The final will be played Saturday night.

Demaret Cops Baton Rouge Open Crown

Noses Out Thomson, By Stroke With 278 And Earns $2,000

By WARNER RAGSDALE BATON ROUGE, La., March 3.—Jimmy Demaret whipped a rain-soaked course with deadly putting and steady iron play today for a one-stroke victory in the $15,000 Baton Rouge Open Golf Tournament.

The colorful 45-year-old Kiamasha Lake, N.Y. veteran toured the first nine holes in three under par 33, but went two over par on the back nine for 38 and a 71 total, to take the $2,000 first money.

Noses Out Thomson Demaret's 278 total for 72 holes was one stroke better than Peter Thomson, Melbourne, Australia, who shot a two under par 70 today. It was three strokes over the tournament 72-hole record set by Sam Snead in 1953.

Three strokes behind Thomson were Gardner Dickinson of Panama City, Fla., and Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill., at 282.

Furgol shot a 69 and Dickinson 70 today.

Demaret said, "It was pretty tough going out there today. The course played pretty long. I played well on the front nine, but I missed a couple of shots on the back nine."

Course Is Soggy A chill wind and dark clouds followed last night's heavy rainstorm that left water standing in some spots on the 6,450 yard Baton Rouge Country Club course.

Demaret jumped off with a birdie on the first hole, dropping a 35-foot putt from the edge of the green.

He chopped another stroke off par on the second hole, sinking an 18-foot putt. The next six holes he played in par.

On the 488-yard ninth hole, Demaret reached the green on the second shot. Trying for a two-under par eagle on the par five hole, he missed a 40-foot putt by less than a foot, but he still got his third birdie and a 38 total.

On the 488-yard ninth hole, Demaret reached the green on the second shot. Trying for a two-under par eagle on the par five hole, he missed a 40-foot putt by less than a foot, but he still got his third birdie and a 38 total.

West Catholic High School of Philadelphia broke the winning streak of 11 matches boasted by LaSalle High School by defeating the Explorers in a postal match over the weekend by the score of 496 to 491.

The last time LaSalle dropped a match was February 6, 1956 when West Catholic topped the Cumberland team, 494 to 492. In coping this match the Philadelphians broke a string of nine straight wins LaSalle had posted.

Last week's setback failed to knock LaSalle out of first place in the five-school Christian Brothers Rifle League. Earlier this year LaSalle defeated West Catholic by the score of 491 to 490.

Highlighting last week's match were 100 scores by three members of the Philadelphia team—McLaughlin, O'Neill and Boyer. Joe Firlie also fired a 100 for the Explorers.

In the other league match, Central Catholic, Pittsburgh, defeated Central Catholic, Canton, Ohio, 488 to 477. There were three 100 scores in this match by Giovanni and Mang, of Canton.

Remaining matches on the LaSalle schedule are with Calvert Hall of Baltimore and Central Catholic of Pittsburgh.

West Catholic faces Canton and Pittsburgh meets Calvert Hall in matches this week. LaSalle is idle. The scores:

State JC Head To Visit Unit At Tri-Towns

PIEDMONT — George E. Snyder, Hagerstown, president of the Maryland Jaycees, will pay his official visit to the Tri-Towns chapter at the regular dinner meeting at 7 p. m. today in the Italian lodge hall.

Snyder will be accompanied by Kenneth Williams, president of the Cumberland Jaycees which sponsored the organization of the local group.

Founder of the Snyder Products company, a wholesale ice cream distributor, Snyder was elected president of the Maryland Jaycees last spring. Prior to that time he served as president of the Hagerstown chapter.

Following the dinner, the Jaycees will hold their regular business meeting when additional plans will be announced for the Teen-Age Road - e - o. Additional reports on the labor survey will also be presented.

Group Seeks Paving Of Glenview Terrace

A group of residents and property owners on Glenview Terrace in the Zeller Addition on Brad-dock Road appeared before the Allegany County Board of Commissioners Friday to request that the street be paved.

Thomas Lohr Richards, local attorney, appeared with the group to present the proposal to the board. He said there are 14 substantial homes on the street now and two more are under construction.

The commissioners informed the group they would have to sign rights-of-way granting a 30-foot easement and that the county could take up the matter later. If the roadway is built to State Roads Commission specifications then the county could certify it for inclusion in the bona fide county roads system and receive gasoline tax mileage.

School To Be Inspected By Officials

Allegany County Board of Education officials hope to conduct the final inspection of new Bruce High School in Westernport before the end of this month, Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools, announced.

Most of the contract work is completed, except for the numerous odds and ends that exist near the end of a project.

The electrical work will be completed by the end of this week, Webster said after checking the school site.

Most of the equipment has been received for the school and some of it has been installed.

Part of the cafeteria equipment has been installed, but a few major pieces have to be set in place.

The big school located in Greene's Addition will cost nearly $2,000,000 when completed.

The prime contractor on the job is the George F. Hazelwood Company of this city.

It really need not be so hard to talk to a new flame, even if you only know half as much as he does.

Secrets Of Charm by John Robert Powers

For A Young Woman Going Places

Being a good conversationalist is a combination of good talking and good listening. And both take genuine interest.

Too many girls try so hard to react to what some attractive man says that they often lose track of their train of thought. Any smart Joe catches on fast when you're smiling at the wrong time and saying "no" for "yes."

Such fake interest is just as disconcerting as no interest at all. And heaven forbid that he think you ignorant!

The secret is to put a look of genuine interest on your face—because you are genuinely interested. And, don't fall into an utter state of confusion and say you've never heard of a book he mentions. If the discussions brings up a new title, don't be afraid to say you haven't read it as yet. Instead you might say you have always been curious about it and then ask the young hero point-blank what he thinks of it. That will give him a chance to talk (what he wanted in the first place when he brought up the subject).

As Webster defines it, "Conversation is the interchange of thoughts and opinions." If you're a girl full of ideas but tongue-tied and shy about expressing them in front of the one you're dreamy-eyed about, here are a few brief suggestions. Twenty minutes of homework will help you to prepare yourself for lots of intellectual onslaughts. Make a point of adding a new word a day to your vocabulary. Spend some time with a good encyclopedia on the subjects he is interested in. Read the newspapers more thoroughly each day—don't just skim the headlines and follow the funnies. Read the important news stories, sift the editorials, the sports and financial pages. Dig out the human interest stories and the feature columns. You'll find that your next meeting will be a meeting of minds.

Tomorrow: A grown-up impression.

TEN SECRETS OF CHARM—You are welcome, free of charge, to the reminder card, TEN SECRETS OF CHARM. It lists ten points to remember as milestones along the road to greater charm. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Honor Students Are Listed At Potomac State

KEYSER — Grade averages at the close of the first semester at Potomac State College show that 65 students, 35 sophomores and 30 freshmen, rate as "B" or better students, according to statistics released from the office of Dean K. S. McKee.

The system used allows four points for each hour of "A" graded work, three for hours of "B" quality work, two for "C", and one for "D" work per hour. The total number of grade points is divided by the total hours carried to determine the grade point average.

Two sophomores and one freshman acquired 4.0 (straight "A") averages. Sophomores are George E. Brady, a geology major from Kitzmiller, Md., who had a 16-hour schedule, and Jean Ann Kight, prebusiness major from Keyser, with 15 hours. The lone freshman with an "A" average is Rebecca E. Green, a premedical major from Piedmont, who carried 18 hours.

Brady, a graduate of Kitzmiller High School, is married and a veteran of the Army, having served as a paratrooper. Miss Kight is a Keyser High School graduate, while Miss Green graduated from Piedmont High School.

Sophomores who scored between 3.5 and 4.0 include Joyce Boone, home economics major from Keyser (3.94-17 hrs.); Bill Rigglesman, chemical engineering major from Dorcas (3.83-18 hrs.); Keith Inskeep, agriculture major from Medley (3.63-19 hrs.); Browne Kookan, prelaw major from Westernport (3.61-18 hrs.); Loretta Grady, general secretarial major from Romney (3.56-16 hrs.), and Patricia Healy, prebusiness major from Piedmont (3.50-16 hrs.).

Eight freshmen who scored in the same division of grades are Patricia Hewitt, medical secretarial major from Keyser (3.94-19 hrs.); Robert Pomroy, engineering major from Junction (3.84-17 hrs.); Dianne Rextine, premedical major from Kingwood, and Mary Ernestine Locke, home economics major from Harrisville, (both having 3.61-13 hrs.); Norma V. Baker, mathematics major from Piedmont, 3.58-17 hrs.; Byron T. Athey, premedical major from Keyser

(3.52-17 hrs.), and Sharon Douglass, physical education major from Nutter Fort, and Krista Leatherman, pre-education major from Keyser (both with 3.50)

Joint Meeting Asked On Area Treatment Unit

New Zoning Bill
Is Being Studied

State Senator Charles M. See announced last night he expects to get House Bill 314 by tomorrow, and will defer action until all parties affected by the proposed waste treatment plant in the Tri-Towns are able to study and indicate approval.

He said he anticipated final action in the House of Delegates tonight.

Third reader copies of the bill, he added, will be sent to officials of Westernport, Piedmont, Luke and the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

Introduced by the Allegany County Delegation, the bill would authorize the Upper Potomac River Commission to assume jurisdiction over construction and operation of the plant.

The towns would assume four per cent of the cost of construction and operation of the $3,000,000 facility planned in connection with the $50,000,000 expansion program of the paper mill.

Asks Joint Meeting

Sen. See said he will ask all parties affected to hold a joint meeting, when the bill would be checked thoroughly. He added he then will ask the principal parties to indicate their approval before moving the bill in the Senate.

Sen. See said the bill is such an important piece of legislation that he must know that it is satisfactory before action is instituted in the Senate.

Sen. See over the weekend supplied copies of SB 438, the LaVale zoning bill, to civic groups in the LaVale area.

He said he has asked groups affected to check it for possible errors before it is moved.

Asks Elected Board

The bill was introduced last week by Sen. See and referred to a Senate committee he heads.

The new bill calls for the election of a zoning board by residents of District 29. The original bill, which is being allowed to die in the Senate, would have given zoning powers to the LaVale Sanitary Commission.

The senator said he will move the bill when he is assured it is satisfactory.

A bill which would place some 200 county employees under the merit system will be introduced this week by Sen. See.

Deadline Nears

He said a bill calling for a central tax office with salaried collectors is expected to be brought to Annapolis this week.

He said he did not know whether it will be introduced in the House or Senate, but said it would be a good thing for the county and would save a good deal of money.

March 12, the senator said, is the deadline for introduction of new bills.

No new legislation can be introduced after that date, he said, except by a two-thirds vote of the membership of the house in which it was introduced.

A Constitutional amendment approved last November provides that no bill may originate in either house during the last 10 calendar days of a regular session in even years or the last 20 calendar days of a regular session in odd years, except with the approval of two-thirds of the elected members.

Churches Plan Lenten Services

Churches of the Union Grove Methodist charge will hold special Lenten services at the various assemblies this week.

Tomorrow a Lenten service will be conducted at Centenary Church at 7:30 p.m. The Elliott MYF also will meet Tuesday with Lee Brotemarkle in charge of the program.

Wednesday evening the Pleasant Grove MYF will meet at the church prior to a Lenten service at 7:30. The Elliott official board also will be in session Wednesday while the Centenary MYF and senior choir plan 7:30 programs.

Thursday at 7 o'clock the Pleasant Grove senior choir plans a rehearsal and at 7:30 p.m. the Elliott WSCS will meet with Mrs. Wilys Wilson in charge of the program. A Lenten service will be held at Zion church at 7:30 p.m.

Friday's Lenten service is scheduled at Elliott at 7:30 and at each special service an offering will be received for the Week of Dedication projects of the Methodist Church.

Rev. Louis L. Emerick announced also that the parsonage committee meets this afternoon at the parsonage at 2 o'clock.

Tonight at 7 the Zion junior choir will rehearse and at 7:30 p.m. the Centenary official board will meet. At 8 o'clock the Zion MYF meeting will have Judy Crone in charge.

On Dean's List

Miss Norma D. Grimes, 313 Footer Place, a Gettysburg College senior, has been named to the dean's honor list for scholastic excellence during the first semester of the present academic year. She is majoring in mathematics.

Fund Drive Citations Awarded

Mayor Roy W. Eves presents Larry Minor, representing the Boy Scouts of America, a special citation in recognition for the work of that organization in the Garrett-Allegany County muscular dystrophy fund drive. The scouts were among many organizations and individuals to receive the citations for the work which raised over $1,600 in the two counties. Looking on are Edward Bucy, Cumberland Fire Department; M. Chester Phillips, field representative of the MDA; and Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker, chairman of the fund campaign. Area fire companies spearheaded the drive throughout the two counties.

Minority Leader Hughes To Address Eagles Service

Minority Leader George R. Hughes Jr. of the Maryland House of Delegates will be the speaker at the annual Memorial Service to be conducted by Cumberland Aerie 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles on March 17 at the Eagles Home on North Mechanic Street.

The local attorney and member of the Allegany County delegation will address the FOE special services honoring members of the organization who have died in the past year.

Two Non-Coms Assigned To USMCR Staff

Two non-commissioned officers have been assigned to the inspector-instructor staff of the Sixth Special Infantry Company, USMCR, at McKaig's Hill.

Capt. Henry W. Tubbs Jr., inspector-instructor of the company, said Sgt. Brice L. Russell, who has been in the Corps for three years and served in the Naval Reserve for eight months, will take over the position of administrative man, which has been vacant.

In the other assignment, Sgt. Gustave W. Wiedl, who has 43 months service in the Corps, will relieve Sgt. Gerald Linn of Frostburg, as armorer on the staff.

Sergeant Linn will report to Camp Lejeune, N. C., for duty in May.

Enlisting in the Corps in Los Angeles, Calif., following graduation from high school at Compton, Calif., Sergeant Russell's last duty station was at the Marine Corps Air Station, El Toro (Santa Ana) Calif., after returning from 14 months of duty in Japan and Okinawa. He is residing at 36 Knobley Street in Ridgeley.

Sergeant Wiedl, who was drill instructor of Company C, 2d Recruit Training Battalion at Parris Island, S. C., graduated from Tarentum (Pa.) High School in 1953. A native of Tarentum, he enlisted in Pittsburgh, Pa. August 3, 1953 and served at Quantico as a training aids man for Officers Basic School. He was also a member of the Security Force at Argentina, Newfoundland. He resides at 21 Prospect Square, city.

Land Is Sought To Boost Yield Of Watershed

Area Can Be Used For Another Dam

The City of Cumberland is proceeding with its plan to acquire additional land in the Evitts Creek watershed in order to boost its water reserves and to prepare for the possibility that a third dam may be needed.

Officers of the Evitts Creek Water Company last week authorized negotiations toward the purchase of two properties. One would protect the shore of one lake from possible future pollution. The other is desired to alleviate erosion, and would be needed if the third dam is ever built.

May Need For Dam

The purchases can be financed from the last Water Department bond issue if the land is available at fair prices.

Mayor Roy W. Eves, who is vice president of the water company, said it has been thought that if Cumberland builds a third dam on the watershed of Evitts Creek, it will be necessary to acquire considerably more land. Additional land is needed any way, he said, to protect the water which is now impounded in Lake Gordon and Lake Koon from erosion and pollution, and to augment the yield through reforestation which will halt the rapid runoff of water.

Trees Replanted

He said the land is needed, regardless of whether the third dam is built, and that it is the policy of the water company to acquire land, when it is available at reasonable prices, so the city will be ready if the third dam is ever needed.

Several years ago, the city embarked on a reforestation program for the 3,669 acres of land it owns on the watershed which feeds its two impounding dams. The plan calls for cutting out marketable trees each 14 years and planting the cut-over area.

Rotary To Hear Refugees' Story

A Hungarian refugee family, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Marton, and their two-year-old daughter, who have settled on a farm near Finzel, will be guests of the Cumberland Rotary Club at the meeting at 12:15 p. m. Tuesday at Central YMCA.

Peter Lukas, a member of the Frostburg Rotary Club who speaks Hungarian, will relate the Martons' story for them. He will tell of the uprising and conditions in Hungary prior to Russia's intervention. Although reared on a Hungarian farm, Marton was forced to labor in Communist controlled coal mines.

Today's Sermonette

Today's Sermonette is a digest of the sermon preached yesterday at the South Cumberland Corps, Salvation Army, by First Lt. James Pappas, commanding officer. These digests are being prepared through the cooperation of the Cumberland Ministerial Association.

"Behold, now is the accepted time; now is the day of salvation." 1 Corinthians 6:2.

"Tomorrow"

By LT. JAMES PAPPAS

"Tomorrow" — a word of expectancy, and a word which gives us something to look forward to. We are lulled into a daydream of future hopes and aspirations, looking into the "yet to be," forgetting the cold hard facts of reality and the present.

In Lewis Carroll's immortal story of Alice in Wonderland and her adventures through the looking glass, I recall Alice escaping the present by stepping into the land of fantasy and dream through large mirror which was at her fingertips, so to speak.

We see an actual escape from reality, even though it be a dream, and a retreating to fantasy and fable. A wonderful children's story, but, we say, no adult could possibly believe this to be true today!

Run Again? Beall Will 'Wait, See'

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—Sen. Beall (R-Md.) said today he will wait to see "who wants Beall in the Senate" before he decides whether he will run for re-election in 1958.

Chuckling a bit, Beall made the remark on a television show.

Commentator Joseph F. McCaffrey told Beall with a smile he confidently expects him to run again. But Beall said, "That all depends on developments in the next year."

McCaffrey noted further that Maryland Gov. Theodore McKeldin, also a Republican, had suggested Beall as a good candidate to succeed him in the governor's chair.

To this, Beall replied that McKeldin "clarified" that remark "when he found out I was not a candidate." He added: "I don't think the people want us trading jobs."

On the other hand, Beall said he was "flattered and honored" by McKeldin's suggestion.

On another topic, Beall said that he, too, as well as other members of Congress, is receiving a sizable quantity of mail from constituents complaining about the size of President Eisenhower's budget.

He agrees, he said, with those who think it can be cut. In his opinion, he went on, "I think it can be reduced from three to five billion dollars."

But Beall said he cannot go along with those who are writing that the Eisenhower administration is "as bad as the New Deal" on spending.

"There is considerable difference," he said. "The New Deal wanted control of wages and prices. . . the Eisenhower administration wants free enterprise and uncontrolled prices."

Police Training School Praised

Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn is writing a letter of commendation to Col. Elmer F. Munshower, superintendent of the Maryland State Police, for the work of two officers who conducted a police training course here last week.

Chief Flynn said he will ask Col. Munshower to hold the training courses periodically in Cumberland.

Both Chief Flynn and Assistant Chief B. Frank Gaffney were enthusiastic about the instruction given by Detective Sgt. Thomas Smith and Cpl. Harold L. Basore.

Both instructors, they said, were practical field men and presented basic facts to the newer officers. They added that both Sgt. Smith and Cpl. Basore made the instruction practical by illustrations from their own field experience.

1957 Campaign For Red Cross Opens Today

Workers Listed In City Areas

Scores of volunteer workers throughout the county will begin today the task of raising $37,000 for Allegany County Chapter, American Red Cross, as the 1957 nationwide fund campaign gets under way.

General campaign chairman for this county is T. J. Klauenberg, who has made an appeal for all citizens to support the Red Cross and its many humanitarian services to the fullest.

As final preparations for the drive were worked out Saturday, Mr. Klauenberg said one of the most important sections of the campaign organization is the Women's Division, which has the responsibility of contacting every home in the city and county.

School Loan Bill Planned By Goldstein

Allegany Co. May
Get $11,404,336

ANNAPOLIS, March 3 (AP)—The president of the Maryland Senate wishes to put the State in the school loan business.

Sen. Goldstein (D-Calvert) has said he will sponsor a bill which would permit the 23 counties and Baltimore City to borrow 350 million dollars during the next 10 years for school construction.

The purpose, he said, is to allow the counties and the city to keep abreast of the expected increase in enrollment during the next decade.

He plans to introduce the bill Monday night.

"Under present interest rates and the tight money policy of the national administration," Goldstein said, "it is virtually impossible for local subdivisions to borrow school construction money at reasonable interest rates."

"By using the state's credit wherein bonds will be issued for a period of 15 years, we feel that it will be possible for the counties and Baltimore City to borrow the money at a lower rate of interest, get the needed school construction at once and get a greater value for the taxpayer's dollar."

The money would be made available in two five-year periods, Goldstein said. Baltimore City could borrow a total of $101,778,252.

Among the counties and amounts they could borrow were these:

Allegany $11,404,336; Carroll $6,880,427; Frederick $9,180,854; Garrett $3,330,909; Washington $12,285,243.

Assessors' Pay Hike Gets Nod Of Committee

ANNAPOLIS, March 3 (AP)—The Maryland House of Delegates will be asked Monday night to approve much more pay for property assessors.

But the recommendation by the Ways and Means Committee won't be as much as proposed by the Maryland Assn. of Assessing Officers.

Its requested salary scale would have cost a total of $1,006,000. The committee's would total $824,900. The current wages amount to $708,101 a year.

The new program calls for the state to pay 6 1/2 per cent and the counties 40. Each pays half now. Salary scales would vary according to the counties divided into five classifications.

Baltimore Is Tops

The top class of Baltimore City calls for a salary of $10,500 up to $12,500 within five years for supervisors. It is now $4,600 to $5,600. The sharp increases proposed, which are reflected all down the line, are predicated on the assessors' putting in full time. It was assumed before the tremendous increase in building of recent times that the assessors didn't have to work regularly.

The other proposed scales are: Baltimore and Montgomery counties: $8,000-$9,500; Allegany, Anne Arundel, Harford, Prince George's and Washington: $6,000-$7,500; Carroll, Frederick, Wicomico: $5,500-$7,000; Calvert, Caroline, Cecil, Charles, Dorchester, Garrett, Howard, Kent, Queen Anne's, St. Mary's, Somerset, Talbot and Worcester: $5,000-$6,000.

The Ways and Means Committee also is recommending five other personnel salary classes as follows:

Salaries Are Listed

Assessor's aide: $3,500 with two annual raises of $250 each.

Assessors: $4,000 with five annual raises of $250 each.

Senior assessor: $5,000 with five annual raises of $250 each.

Assistant supervisors for Classes A, B or C: $6,000 with five annual raises of $250 each.

Assistant supervisors for Baltimore City: $7,000 with five annual raises of $250 each.

At present, there are only four classifications for the supervisors. Outside of the Baltimore the maximums range from $3,250 to $5,050 compared with the House committee's ceilings of $6,000 to $9,500.

Firemen Plan Regional School At Corriganville

State Board Meets
At LaVale April 28

Corriganville Volunteer Fire Company will be host on March 24, at an all-day Regional Fire School, it was announced yesterday at the monthly meeting of Allegany-Garrett Volunteer Firemen's Association.

The meeting was held at the Clarysville Fire Hall with dinner served by the auxiliary. Twenty of the 31 volunteer companies and all association officers answered roll call.

The Regional Fire School, an annual event, will include various demonstrations in both the morning and afternoon. The agenda will include the destruction of a three-room house and a couple of automobiles.

David C. Kirk reported yesterday that the Maryland State Firemen's Association executive board will hold a meeting at LaVale Fire Hall Sunday, April 28, to which all units are invited.

80 Courses Under Way

Kirk also reported that he had attended a meeting of the state board at Annapolis on February 12. At that session, Robert Byrns, director of fire extension service for the University of Maryland there are 80 fire training courses under way in the state. He also observed that 211 of the state's member companies have paid their annual dues of $30, and there has been no objection to the increase in dues.

He also noted that a block of automobile license tags have been reserved for Maryland's firemen. Those who want these tags may make their requests to Howard A. Keller, chairman of the state association's transportation committee before March 9. His address is Box 5746, Baltimore 8, Md., Kirk said.

William A. Wilson, legislative chairman, reported that two members, David Kirk and Cromwell Zembower, at the request of the state president, attended a hearing on the State Fire Marshal Bill in the Maryland General Assembly. As a result of this hearing, Wilson said, Minority Floor Leader George Hughes Jr., said the bill had come out of committee, was passed and sent to the Senate.

Smoker April 27

Alvin Rankin was named by the association as the local member of an advisory committee to name a fire marshal if the bill is enacted.

Jack Eichhorn, noted that the annual smoker will be held at Goodwill Fire Company, Lonaconing on April 27, and he requested that each company order the number of tickets desired as soon as possible.

Zembower reported that the Civil Defense will notify area fire units shortly when they can pick up the litter they have requested. Other companies desiring litter should make their requests immediately.

Charles Crawford of Bowling Green, chairman of the Carnival Clearance Committee, noted the following carnival dates have been approved: Tri-Towns Company, June 10-15; Lonaconing, June 30-July 6; Midland, July 22-July 27; McCool, August 6-August 10.

The next meeting will be held at Deer Park April 7 at 2 p. m.
